

Single Thread Single Process Asynchronous Programming

The 'à la Node.js' way

The server uses a single thread, but in a non-blocking, asynchronous way.

Callback functions have to be written, so that they can be invoked when clients arrive, when data is received, etc.

Different programming logic.
Scalable.